This book is an anthology of selected quotes from Walt Disney and selected facts about Walt Disney. It grants Walt Disney's reflections on subjects ranging from the Fun and Disneyland to Popularity, Family and Money; in addition, the book shows the personality of Walt Disney into more human light, different than Hollywood's legend: Walt Disney got his idea and inspiration for Disneyland, when he visited the "Tivoli"- park in Denmark. Walt Disney personally disliked Alice in Wonderland (1951) and Peter Pan (1953) because of the lack of "heart" and "warmth" in their main characters. The Disney family's company was named Retlaw Enterprises, Disney's first full name reversed. The Disney appeared on-camera in only one of his films, "The Reluctant Dragon". Walt Disney served as a "friendly witness" before the House Committee for Un-American Activities (HUAC) in 1947. Walt Disney was very sad about the unfavorable reception of Fantasia (1940) as he was proud of the film. Walt Disney forbade his employees to wear mustaches, not wanting to compromise on the "clean-cut image" that the Disney company had. Walt Disney's favorite desserts were lemon meringue pie and chocolate ice cream soda. Walt Disney's favorite films he produced were Bambi (1942) and Dumbo (1941). Walt Disney's favorite song was "Feed the Birds" from "Mary Poppins" (1964). "It's kind of fun to do the impossible." "I don't make pictures just to make money. I make money to make more pictures." "Every time they make a pornographic film, I make money." "A man should never neglect his family for business." "Disneyland is the star; everything else is in the supporting role." "For every laugh, there should be a tear." "Girls bored me — they still do. I love Mickey Mouse more than any woman I've ever known." "All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them."
